

Resold And Managed Google SecOps Service Description

If the Binary Defense Services provided to Client identify the resale of, or Binary Defense's management, provision or access to Google SecOps, the following applies. With respect to Google SecOps, Client agrees that: (1) the terms and conditions set forth at <https://cloud.google.com/terms> apply to Google SecOps (the "Google Terms"); and (2) Binary Defense is not responsible, and disclaims all liability, for Google or Google SecOps, including, without limitation, for any loss, damage, or liability relating to (or arising from) Google or Google SecOps.

Binary Defense has the right to audit and monitor Client's use of the Services. If Binary Defense determines that Client's use of (or Binary Defense's use on behalf of Client) Google SecOps exceeds the contracted for amount (e.g., GBs, license quantity, etc.), as specified in the applicable Order, Binary Defense has the right to immediately invoice Client at Binary Defense's then-current rates for the full overage amount as of the applicable invoice date.
