

Resold And Managed Devo SAAS Product Service Description

If the Binary Defense Services provided to Client identify the resale of, or Binary Defense's management, provision or access to Devo products and services, the following applies. With respect to Devo products and services, Client agrees that: (1) the terms and conditions set forth at <https://www.binarydefense.com/additional-terms-and-conditions-for-devo-services/> (as may be updated by Devo from time to time) apply to the Devo products and services (the "Devo Terms"); and (2) Binary Defense is not responsible, and disclaims all liability, for Devo or the Devo products and services, including, without limitation, for any loss, damage, or liability relating to (or arising from) Devo or the Devo products and services.

Binary Defense has the right to audit and monitor Client's use of the Services. If Binary Defense determines that Client's use of (or Binary Defense's use on behalf of Client) any Devo products and services exceeds the contracted for amount (e.g., GBs, license quantity, etc.), as specified in the quote, Binary Defense has the right to immediately invoice Client at Binary Defense's then-current rates for the full overage amount as of the applicable invoice date.
